Few highlights:

Langham – each seminar was great encouragement. It was nice to be part of cooperation between Mission School from Ukraine and Bible Institute from Bosnia. In Montenegro we started seminars for the first time. Work in Serbia, Croatia, Slovenia and Bosnia is continuing. At conference Revive there were 3000 students from whole Europe, and Preaching workshop was attended by more than 50, which was capacity of assigned classroom.

Feuer – Mission week in Balti, Moldova was great encouragement. In 3 days, events were attended by more than 200 students, 32 decided to follow Jesus. Article about the Mission Week you can read at Institute “Good News” - evangelistic events with Nick Vujicic were largest ever in history of Bosnia. I was coordinator for the event in Sarajevo and I also helped organizing in Mostar and Banja Luka. We started with planning and organisation in February and event itself was at the end of October. In Mostar and Sarajevo we had 1700 people each and in Banja Luka 3500. Beside that, thousands were watching live streams on Internet and on one of national TV’s which was broadcasting one of the events. Event in sarajevo you can watch at https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=GKrbgIiL_bI&t=776s In Sarajevo, 160 people left their contact details at feedback forms and quite few met with believers and visited churches.

We had 12 participants at the seminar for evangelism 1 on 1 which I organized in Bible Institute in Mostar in partnership with Church Evangelism Partnership. (participants were from Bosnia, 3 from Montenegro and 1 from Serbia. Participants committed that they’ll teach others in their churches, so now around 50 people in the region are going through training. I am teaching 8 people in our local church.

Round table for pastors and missionaries which I organized in partnership with EBI (Evangelical Bible Institute) and OSIMS (Osijek Institute for Missional Studies) was also great encouragement. We had 40 missionaries and pastors, and one of them wrote “The 40 participants represented all the major denominations and organizations working in Bosnia-Herzegovina as well as 10 sending countries. For two days we discussed how we can better partner to reach people in this country where church growth is stagnant and the spiritual soil is very hard. As we talked together, prayed together, sang together, and took communion together, a sense of hope built that, while the work may be hard, God has given us partners to work with. Please pray for these brothers and sisters who are laboring under difficult circumstances to see Jesus' name proclaimed in places where it is unknown. Pray also for deeper partnership between the churches and missionary organization. “

Family

Few days ago I did blood tests (tumor markers) and thanks God, they are all good. Even it has been more than 10 years since I had cancer for the second time, those tests and waiting for the results is always stressful. Since the end of Oct Sanja is not working anymore for foundation that she worked for, so she has more time to help me in ministry. Jovana completed her Master study in Psychology and she started working as requiter in one company in Sarajevo. David is on the second year of Electrotechnic and Computer studies in Zagreb. My sister Sanja (she has same name as my wife) is fighting lung cancer for over a year. She is going through chemotherapy. Doctors prognosis are encouraging, please pray for her.

Thank you a lot for your prayers
May Lord bless you
